OUR NEW YORK LETTER

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, October 25, 1867

MONEY AND BUSINESS

The general trade of this great metropolis has, for the past few weeks been growing more and more satisfactory to the merchants. Loud complaints of dullness and depression are heard on every hand, and an uneasy feeling is manifested in all mercantile circles. The decline in prices of some of the great staples of merchandise are quite marked, and the end is apparently not yet reached. When we state that with a paper money circulation of over six hundred millions, goods are rapidly approaching prices that prevailed under a specie basis before the war, your readers can form some idea of the depression in trade circles. Mercantile credit has of late been gradually sinking, and traders have experienced more difficulty in getting discounts, than for a long time past. This only adds to the prevailing dullness and assists the downward tendency of the general dry goods market. The banks and rich real estate and bond-holders, have money enough and to spare, but through fear of failures, they are more chary in their loans than formerly. In consequence of this, a large quantity of what is called "mercantile paper" is thrown upon the street. In a great city like New York, with its thousands of merchants and traders, both great and small, doing a business amounting to tens or even hundreds of millions each month, there is always a large number who, for making purchases or loans, are daily executing their notes with endorsers, running twenty, thirty, sixty or ninety days. These notes are bought and sold in the market, or "on the street," as it is termed, by certain classes of speculators, money lenders, money shavers and money brokers. There are places or offices in which one can go during business hours of each day, and look over long lists of merchant's notes for sale at rates of discount—depending on the reputation and standing of the maker and the endorsers, and which may fluctuate as stocks or gold fluctuates. Buying these notes at discount, avoids all effect or penalty of usury laws. Paper which a few months ago passed current at 6 to 8 per cent., is now being offered freely at 10 to 12 per cent discount. That at 4 to 5 is now offered at 6 to 7, and without free buyers even at these rates.

Sometimes a merchant comes under suspicion, and his paper will fall in the broker's hands 2 to 5 per cent in a single day, sometimes a trader is actually crushed and driven to failure or suspension by the brokers "throwing out" his paper—that is, declining to discount it at any rates. There are in this city a set of fellows—commercial paper brokers, they call themselves—who make their living mostly or wholly, by running about and finding out whose paper is for sale, and at what rates as the very lowest figure, then negotiating the sale to some other broker at a small advance. These fellows never actually own the notes they sell, nor do they pay or receive any money for them; they simply pocket the difference on the transactions. Merchants often lend their credit to each other in making this accommodation paper, and not unfrequently a trader that is supposed to be good beyond all doubt, suddenly fails, and it is discovered that he has been lending his credit to other speculators to an extent which, it would seem, he hardly knew himself.

Among many instances, monthly occurring here, of failure or of suspension, let us specify two that have come under our observation, as showing the habits of business men. In Leonard street, a few doors from Broadway, there was, two years ago, a house which was selling dry goods at the rate of $25,000 to $30,000 per week. Business was prosperous and daily increasing. The head of the firm thought if he could only remove around the corner into Broadway, his business could double or treble its trade. An exchange with the owner of a large carpet house was effected, giving up the Leonard street store at $1,000 a year rents, and paying the carpet man $1,000 a week, or $52,000 a year. The Broadway carpet firm took the Leonard street store, pocketing $34,000 difference in rents in one year. The results were that just as many carpets were sold in Leonard street, but in the second year, the Broadway dry goods house had to succumb to high rents and a falling market, with too much accommodation paper on the street.

Another case is that of a gentleman, formerly in business in your State. Three or four years trade here had found him continually prosperous, until during the past summer he was induced by another trader in the same line, to exchange accommodation paper to the amount of about $30,000. Large, very large profits were expected to be made to each party, when suddenly, our Oregon man found that his friend had eloped, and his own paper to the amount of over $23,000 on the street, which in due time would have to be paid by himself as endorser. The principal has failed for over $100,000, and gone into bankruptcy. Our friend, the endorser, has closed shop, to chew the cud of discontent for a season, and see how he can raise the money for his share of the interest.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET

The following are the wholesale or jobbing prices of some of the standard articles in the dry goods trade this week. Best calicos, known as "madder prints," have been reduced to 22½ cents per yard. "Mouslin delaines" have declined from 22 to 16 or 17 cents per yard, which is even as low as prices current before the war. Standard home sheetings have fallen to 15½ cents, and inferior stocks have declined to even a less figure. "Wamsutta" and "New York Mills,"—two of the best brands of bleached muslins—are quoted at 25 to 27½ cents, but the bleached goods are lower. The whole market for domestic cotton fabrics was never in a more unsettled and feverish state than at present, and still further decline is expected.

Intelligence from the South indicates a large cotton crop. The weather has been favorable for the picking season, no early frosts, and the yield is estimated at two and a half to three millions of bales. The cotton now coming forward to New York is of a fair quality, and the whole crop promises to be good. Planters that can hold their stocks are however, refusing to accept the present price, as they will pay little or no profit, and they hope for an advance later in the season, before another crop can be obtained. This delays payments and reduces trade among Southern jobbers and merchants.

From some sections, complaints of a scarcity of labor are expressed, owing to the negroes devoting so much time to politics but if the whole crop can be gathered, the South will have a handsome income during the year from the old staple. Considerable amounts of cotton are being shipped to Liverpool, but the scarcity of ships and advance in freights have greatly retarded this trade.

CALIFORNIA FREIGHTS

There is just now such a demand for vessels, and so scarce the supply, that there has been a rise in freights to California. The agents of different lines of clippers to the Pacific, have notified shippers, that after the present ships are full, the rates to San Francisco will be advanced to fifty cents per foot, measurement, one and a quarter cents per pound, weight, one dollar per keg for nails, and twenty dollars per ton for coal. This is an advance of 25 to 30 per cent on the former prices.

COTTON IS KING

The inquiry has often been made, "who first wrote the phrase 'Cotton is king'?" It has been attributed to the late Gov Hammond, of South Carolina, but this is an error. It originated with the author of a book bearing that title, "Cotton is King," published about fifteen years ago, by a Prof Christy, of Cincinnati now of New York City, in which he advocated the preservation of the Union as essential to the prosperity of the country. About that time many men were urging that the South had become a burden the North, and that by driving the South out of the Union the North would become vastly more prosperous and powerful. The author presented the economical relations of the two sections and argued that to dissolve this Union, would be to diminish our foreign commerce, and be ruinous to the whole country. Although the North has for a long time produced the largest amount of domestic commodities, the South before the rebellion, could show a larger balance in values of foreign commerce. With reconstruction and renewed labor, she may yet again show that cotton if not a king is a mighty power in the land.

GRAIN AND FLOUR.

In the Produce and Breadstuff market a very different state of affairs exists, there having been of late a very fine revival of export demand for almost all of our cereals. Both flour and wheat are in active demand, and considerable quantities are being sent to Europe. In view of this, there has sprung up a speculation in corn, carrying prices above shippers' limits, and even temporarily checking shipments abroad. The stock of wheat in store in this city is light, (not over half a million bushels) and as the western speculators are holding on for larger prices, the stock is not likely to be much increased before the winter sets in. The advices from all European markets are favorable to our cereals, as indications certainly point to a continued export demand. In England, the price of wheat is now double what it was in 1864, and is higher than it has been since the close of the Crimean war. The crop in the country is said to turn out, in threshing, a much lighter yield than was anticipated, and French buyers are also in the English markets.

We mention these items, as they appear from our standpoint, for it is of the deepest interest to the Oregon farmers and the Oregon merchants, if there shall be a repetition in 1868 of the market in wheat and flour of 1867, and if the [illegible] of the Pacific coast can be profitably [illegible] to Liverpool or to New York, Oregon should get her portion of the benefit. We do not advise Oregon farmers to hold their wheat until Spring, but we simply state the facts as they occur in this market.

APPLES IN THE NEW YORK MARKET.

To a person passing through any of the public markets, or along any of the busy thoroughfares of New York, where numerous stands are filled with pyramids of apples, each heap [illegible] a card indicating the price in cents for any one of the smooth fair fruit, the heap usually [illegible] by an old woman or a blushing maiden, [illegible] may come a reminder of the story, told in oldest written history, of how an apple in the hands of Eve was the occasion of all the inextricable mixing and serious damaging which, in this world, has come upon the affairs of man. And yet notwithstanding the trick our first mother played with the Mother [illegible] Pippin, all the world admits that a perfect woman is the noblest creation, and a perfect apple is the [illegible] fruit that had been given to us poor mortals.

"Here's yer-fine-Pip'n appl's; five cents 'piece," exclaims the blushing maiden, taking [illegible] all out of one's reveries. "Lovely apple girl [illegible] you suppose that's the style in which Eve, a stranger and at the first interview, accosted Adam?" How these Fulton-market [illegible] ers have [illegible] The apple [illegible] has now fairly began, and so far as the earlier varieties are concerned, it is at the height. The season for the more hardy winter varieties has scarcely yet attained its prime. The favorite fall apples in New York are the York Pippin, Twenty Ounce, Pound Sweets and Fall Pippins; the first [illegible] being, if any one, most preferred. Of these [illegible] for fall trade, the greater part [illegible] from the central and western portions of this State and from New Jersey. None came from P[illegible], nor from the New England States; [illegible] buyers are now here to procure apples for [illegible], and several thousand barrels are sold in a day. Baltimore and the South also [illegible] mainly for their supplies on this city. The [illegible] of fall apples sold and to be sold in New York this season, is estimated by well informed [illegible], to be between 70,000 and 85,000 barrels, [illegible] ranging from $2 50 to $5 ₩ bbl. The [illegible] to be done in winter apples is [illegible], and the figures are marvellous. No [illegible] on the face of the globe [illegible] a trade in this fruit equal to New York. The yield of the orchard this year has been an excellent one, and the quantity that will [illegible] into the trade of this city, is variously [illegible] at from 400,000 to 800,000 barrels. Out of about two hundred varieties, those which are held in the highest estimation and are largest sold, are the baldwin, the Rhode Island [illegible], the Roxbury russet and the Spitzenberg. This last [illegible] is the favorite, and the second in demand is the [illegible]. [illegible] barrels of the fall varieties are shipped to England, to Cuba and to South America. In Covent Garden market, London, New York apples command high prices and are considered the most superior fruit. The wholesale prices of these varieties in this city now range from $3 to $4 ₩ bbl. Some sales for entire orchards have been made as low as $2 25 and $2 50 ₩ bbl., on the tree. One sale of a thousand barrels, Spitzenbergs, was made by a single farmer at $3 74. The total amount paid to farmers and fruit growers by the [illegible] of New York this season, will not fall short of $1,500,000, and by some it is estimated to [illegible] $2,000,000. Is it not curious that all the varieties of this fine fruit, have been produced by cultivation, by innoculation and by grafting from the insignificant crab and [illegible]!

PERSONAL MENTION.

Among the passengers by the last [illegible] Arizona, from Aspinwall, we note the arrival of Senator Williams and his happy bride, Senator Corbett and his estimable bride, Mrs. Judge Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. Failing, of Portland; Captain Eckerson, of Vancouver, and J. Ross Browne, the funny traveler and gatherer of mining [illegible] and mineral statistics from the Pacific States and Territories, for the Treasury Department, at Washington.

After a few days sojourn in this city, to admit of time to smooth out wrinkles, recover from the damaging effects of old Neptune's [illegible] habits, the two Oregon Senators have departed, the one to take the stump in the present political canvass in the central part of the State, and the other upon a visit among friends in the New England States.

Throughout the bright and fashionable circles which will be found at Washington City during the ensuing winter among the wives and daughters of honorable Senators and Representatives, Oregon will be happily and worthily represented, not a whit behind the lady representatives from any other State.

OREGON IRON IN NEW YORK.

H. D. Green, Esq., and family, of your State, are booked for passage on the California steamer, which sails on the 1st of November. This gentleman has recently received and exhibited some specimens of iron manufactured at the new works at Oswego, in your State, which among the iron men in this city is exciting much interest and marvelous comment. This is doing more to awaken an interest among capitalists about the future growth and prosperity of Oregon, than all the gold mines which John Day, Rogue river, Santiam, DeChutes and Walla Walla have offered.

Iron is king now in this country, and it is well if one spot in this monarch seat of empire can be located on the banks of the Willamette.

PERSONAL MENTION

We noticed a few days ago in this city, A. D. Fitch, Esq., and Mr. Barrell, of the firm of Knapp, Burrell & Co., from Portland. Both of these gentlemen talk of returning in a few weeks.

On Broadway we have also met the widow and daughter of the late Amory Holbrook, Esq., of your city. Young Logan, son of the Hon Wm Logan of the Dalles, (who was among the passengers of the ill fated Brother Jonathan,) who was recently nominated by Congressman Mallory to an appointment in the United States Naval Academy has been detained for several weeks since his arrival in this city by severe sickness. He has just departed for Annapolis, Md., to undergo an examination for admission in the Academy. May success attend him, and if he shall honor the State by his proficiency and attainments as much as Lieut Lamson, who was in 1860 appointed from Yamhill county, and who is now with the squadron under command of Admiral Goldsborough in European waters, your State will have occasion to be doubly proud of her naval students.

ABOUT MRS LINCOLN

The sale of the valuables of Mrs Lincoln in this city, as well as the subscription for the relief of her present financial troubles progresses slowly. None of the rich dresses have found a purchaser since our report in a former letter of their being left by Mrs Lincoln with pawnbroker W. H. Brady for disposition. Only $125 have been contributed to the relief fund. The idea of a sale at public auction has been abandoned, or indefinitely postponed. It only found favor with Mrs Lincoln at a time of much mental excitement, when she was smarting under what she deemed to be the very ungrateful conduct of certain incumbents in office who owe something of their fortunate positions to her favor in time of her husband's power. The project to raise a subscription on a large scale has not yet assumed any definite shape, but gentlemen moving in the matter receive much encouragement. Several distinguished [illegible] and certain brilliant musical artists, actuated by a kindly feeling in this matter, have tendered their services, gratis, for the production of sundry entertainments, the entire proceeds to be applied to the proposed gift. Mrs Lincoln does not [illegible] the first or only instance in this country as a widow of one of our chief magistrates left in comparative poverty and in straitened circumstances. Mrs. Madison was left in a very humble [illegible] condition, [illegible], it was said, by the [illegible] of a son [illegible] she was [illegible]. Mrs. Madison was at the head of [illegible] in Washington. Her [illegible] was a lady was every way worthy of her [illegible] and was as [illegible] as the public. She was a [illegible] woman in every [illegible], and [illegible] the walls of the white house were [illegible] with the beauty, the wit, the [illegible] the [illegible] and the [illegible] of the nation, and yet Mrs. Madison was [illegible] to sell to Congress the [illegible] of her [illegible], which were of [illegible] to the [illegible] library.

Branch Railroad for Oregon.

Many of the facts contained in the subjoined article (which we find in the Sacramento Union of the 16th) have been published at various times in the OREGONIAN, but as a new interest is being taken in the matter of building a railroad to bring Oregon into communication with the Central Pacific in the vicinity of Humboldt, and as it will be interesting to the people of the State to know how the project is received in California, we give the entire article as published in the Union

"A project is on foot for building a railroad from Portland in Oregon, to Centerville, at the junction of the Humboldt and Little Humboldt rivers At the latter point the road will connect with the Central Pacific, and make it the eastern outlet for Oregon as well as for California The advantages of such a connection for the Central and Union companies are obvious If speedily consummated it will secure them for a long time the carrying trade for the best portion of Oregon over about 1,200 miles of their road to Omaha The route seems, also, to be the most desirable one for the northwest, since it avails itself of so much complete road, and presents no serious difficulties to a speedy construction In this respect it appeals forcibly to the Government for such assistance as it can render Only 465 miles of road will be necessary to furnish the Government a military highway from Centerville to Portland This can be built, perhaps, as soon as the road from the east can reach the point of junction If not, the Central Pacific has only 320 miles to pass over between Sacramento and Centerville, of which 138 miles are nearly completed As a route to Oregon from California, therefore, though circuitous, this can be completed sooner than any other Both to the Government, to the railroad companies and the people, the question of time is one of importance [illegible] should be considered in whatever help is [illegible] such enterprises

E. L. Applegate, the present United States Surveyor General for Oregon, and B J Pengra, ex-Surveyor General, have visited our city in furtherance of this project They present a map and profile of [illegible] which the following [illegible] From Portland to Eugene City the line runs up the Willamette valley, with a maximum grade of seventy feet to the mile, for a short distance only, and an average grade of only five feet for 115 miles. It reaches the foot of the Cascade range twenty miles from Eugene City, at an elevation of 950 feet, that of Portland being [illegible]. Thence, following one of the [illegible] of the [illegible], it finds a [illegible] to the summit of the [illegible]. The gap [illegible] has an elevation of [illegible] feet, and with [illegible] feet, and [illegible] of this [illegible] the [illegible] into the shelf of [illegible] land behind it, having the same elevation of 4,500 feet. By a slight increase of distance it is believed this point can be passed with a grade not exceeding sixty feet, landing the road at once upon the table land to which, on the [illegible] by a grade of sixty-three feet. After passing the Cascade range, the road turns southward to the valley of Sprague's river, [illegible] into Klamath lake. At a point [illegible] the elevation is still 4,500 feet, and the grade descends into the valley at the rate of fifty feet to the mile. Turning to the east, the road ascends the valley at a very light grade, crosses it an elevation of 4,460, and then with a grade of forty five feet reaches [illegible] of the prairie at an elevation of 4,900 feet. Th[illegible] again with a grade of [illegible] to [illegible] lake, which it finds at an elevation of 4,690 feet. Just east of the lake a ridge is reached, which is passed at an elevation of 5,000 feet, with a short grade of eighty feet. The road descends again as rapidly and [illegible] again [illegible], directly toward [illegible] which gives it a descending grade from four to [illegible] feet varied with level stretches. These figures speak well for the feasibility of the enterprise. The [illegible] work is short and not very heavy, while [illegible] of the road [illegible] to present no difficulty worth mentioning, except an unsettled country and distance from points of supply. We are [illegible], however, that the [illegible] which [illegible] north [illegible] Klamath lake is well watered and remarkably well adapted for farming purposes, and the land [illegible] there. The whole region has an average elevation of about 4,000 feet, and sinks away gradually to the south, the elevation of the [illegible] where the Central traverses it, being [illegible] feet. [illegible] is [illegible] of [illegible] within [illegible] of Centerville, which [illegible] could be built from that point by the aid of the Central Pacific.

There is another [illegible] why this route should be of particular interest to Californians. It seems the offer the best and [illegible] of building a [illegible] forty-two miles east of the [illegible], passing through [illegible] lake, so that it is nearly due [illegible] from the point where this projected road [illegible] of this region is known from Williamson's survey to justify the belief that a railroad could be built over it with less difficulty than farther west. Passing between Klamath lake, and Rhett lake, the road would seek the Pit [illegible] the head waters of the Sacramento, coming by either route into this valley, and [illegible] meeting with [illegible] in the middle of the [illegible]. The [illegible] of Siskiyou county traversed is said to be an extensive agricultural [illegible] over to the Indians. If this branch is built, Klamath county would probably soon make railroad connection with it by way of Klamath valley, and thus the whole of that part of the State would be speedily developed.

This route [illegible] to Portland is [illegible] miles shorter than the road past [illegible], and requires far less time and expense. It has only [illegible] of mountain country, while the other has four hundred The ridge which [illegible] carries on its shoulder or the Coast Range can neither be [illegible] any [illegible] than the Cascade range above described; while all the streams and divides running [illegible] to the Pacific will [illegible] requiring heavy [illegible] or crooked alignment and [illegible]. It would appear wise, however, for the Oregonians to put all their force for the [illegible] route intersecting the Central Pacific. When that is completed they will have [illegible] California only sixty miles longer than the present stage route, as well as a through route to Utah and the East in good time After that, the building of the northern road [illegible] to all who are now interested in the other.

It is [illegible] to add that these projects com[illegible] the [illegible] of all who [illegible] the material development and prosperity of the Pacific coast, and to such aid from the Government as will be surely made useful in hastening the completion of the roads"

In our New York letter, published to-day, will be found a statement of several important facts which should engage the attention of the people of Oregon, and particularly of those who have a leading part in business here It will be observed that with a rapid decline of almost all kinds of goods in eastern markets, there is a very heavy rise in freights to the Pacific coast and elsewhere It follows that consumers and people generally will be unable to derive the advantage they ought from a reduction in the prices of goods at the east and from a rise of our own products for transportation to eastern markets This state of facts suggests in a very practical and forcible way the necessity of an independent trade for Oregon, carried on directly with the east by means of shipping owned and controlled at home Even if this would be impracticable to a certain extent, and though freights should not be materially reduced by the fact of the shipping being owned here, we should at least by this process get our trade clear of the [illegible], wherein it suffers by passing through so many hands, and thus relieve it of no inconsiderable part of its burdens Any project looking to the accomplishment of results of this sort would deserve attentive consideration.

We desire to express in due form our obligations to the Herald for appropriating an article of ours relative to the late Col M T Simmons, and publishing the same as a leading editorial, without a word of credit Perhaps it is supposed that the very coolness of a proceeding of this character will be a recompense for its meanness

General Sherman is not a candidate for the Presidency In the event of Grant's election General Sherman is likely to become General, and Sheridan will step into the rank now held by Sherman All this would be satisfactory to the American people

"NOT IN OREGON."—The Vancouver Register of last Saturday, contains the following "grumble," under the head of "Not in Oregon:" The OREGONIAN of Monday has an editorial notice of the Cement Works of Knapp & Co., which, it says, are near the mouth of the Columbia river. The editor of that paper is generally fair and honorable, but in this instance he neglected to give his readers a very important item of information. It is all true that the cement works are near the mouth of the Columbia. It is true also that the cement is of the best quality, and the supply is inexhaustible; but it is just as true that they are in Washington Territory, which little bit of knowledge does not appear from the article in question. Now we are a little jealous, as Bro. Scott is at California, for claiming that Oregon is in that State, and we don't mean to let Oregon make a like claim as to this Territory. We are a people ourselves, and we beg the OREGONIAN to understand that Oregon is bounded on the north by the Columbia river. We are willing to let Oregonians have cement at a fair price, but must note the mine as another proof of the mineral wealth of this Territory.

The editor of the Register neglected to state that the discoverer and original owner of the cement mine is a resident of Oregon. Bro. Brown probably forgot to state that Messrs. Knapp, Burrell & Co., whose money alone has thus far been used to develop this "proof of the mineral wealth of this Territory," are permanent residents and merchants of Portland. If we were at all disposed to "come back" at Bro. Brown, we might suggest in the gentlest possible manner that Oregonians will do most of the selling of that cement. It is true that physically "Oregon is bounded on the North by the Columbia river;" but we suggest to the Register that if Washington Territory desires to have its mineral and other sources of wealth developed, it had better not make it impossible for Oregonians to cross the boundary.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—About one o'clock yesterday afternoon a man named Charles Germaine attempted to commit suicide by drowning, at the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf. Some days ago he met with an accident by which his collar bone was displaced, since which time he has been in low spirits and had said that he would make away with himself. Yesterday, just before the attempt at self destruction was made, Dr. Giltner saw him sitting on the rail of the wharf, and recognizing him as the man he had recently attended, went to speak with him. When asked how he was getting along he replied that he had pains here and there, pointing out the places, and that he was going to drown himself to get rid of them. At this Dr. Giltner, discovering that the man had a silk sash with a stone tied to one end and that he really had intentions of suicide, caught hold of him by the coat collar to prevent the attempt. He told Germaine to come with him to his office and he would give him something to stop the pains. He rose, apparently to accompany the doctor, who then released his hold. The man was no sooner released than he made a jump into the river and went down. One of the employees on the Rescue, seeing him jump overboard, immediately got into a small boat and went after him. Meantime, Germaine rose once and gone down again. Upon coming up the second time he concluded to swim, and struck out for the piles under the wharf. Reaching one, he [illegible] of the iron bands and just caught his fingers' ends upon it. He was, however, so much exhausted that his hold gave way and he was just sinking back [illegible] when the boatman reached him and drew him into the boat. Being taken into the San Francisco Bakery, where he was an employee, restoratives were applied by Dr. Giltner, and after some time he returned [illegible] Dr. G. thinks he has been ill along [illegible].

PORTLAND LIBRARY.—The following new books have been added to the Portland Library: Resources of [illegible], by Hittell; Richmond During the War; Prison Life of Jefferson Davis, by Craven; Hills of [illegible], by the author of the Wide, Wide World; Four years of Fighting, by Coffin; Clergyman's Wife; Con[illegible] Novels, by Harte; Fall of [illegible]; A Book About [illegible] Men I have Known, by Jerdan; Artemus Ward in [illegible]; Across Mexico in 1864-5, by Bullock; [illegible] to the Wheel; Half Hours of English History; Wealth and Welfare, by Gotthelf; Lotte Schmidt, by [illegible]; Short Stories on Great Subjects; Language and the Study of Language; Everybody's Book; Political Parties in the United States; Voices of the Border; [illegible] Louisa, by Muhlbach; History of [illegible]; Character and Characteristic Men; [illegible]

[illegible] FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship Sierra Nevada [illegible] sailed hence for San Francisco Saturday afternoon, with the following list of passengers: Gen F Steele, Lieut B F Strong, [illegible] Mrs John R Kittrell and [illegible] children, H M Britt, wife and three children, [illegible] wife and three children, Mrs [illegible] child, [illegible] H C Gr[illegible], A P Ebey, W M Langley, B M Green, H M Craig, J H Drake, Miss Annie Brook, A N Brook, W J Linville, Jas Gamble, D T Sevill, J D Mattison, T George Thomas, J [illegible] and wife, Gen H B Babbitt and wife, Miss Julia Babbitt, N Perine, Mrs A A King, Mrs C N Humiston, A Wallett, J W Todd, H Kelley, C Davis, L S Kelley, Dr T G [illegible], Miss [illegible], Mrs Staley and three children, T [illegible], H [illegible] (W, F & Co's [illegible]), and 47 in the steerage.

[illegible]—On [illegible] evening, just after dark, a couple of boys of a dozen or more years of age, [illegible] at the corner of Front and Pine streets [illegible] with a view of "going through him," as the [illegible] They got him [illegible] and were only prevented from [illegible] in their [illegible], what ever they might have designed to do, by the approach of several men who were attracted by the cries of the Chinaman. At the approach of the men, the boys relaxed their [illegible] and escaped without [illegible]. The Chinaman was badly frightened, but beyond a few [illegible], received no injury, and suffered no loss. He had just received several dollars, of [illegible] here him.

SPILLED.—Saturday evening a bevy of ladies, fair and frail, from Second street, were out in one of the city carriages [illegible] gay old ride. Not taking into account the [illegible] of all earthly things, they were intent only on "drifting away dull care" and consequently paid too little heed to where they were driving the team. The [illegible] and contents got rather muchly spilled, on Madison street; nobody much hurt, but [illegible].

[illegible] COURT [illegible], JUDGE.—Proceedings of Saturday, Nov. 23d:

Louis Kuhn vs. Susan Mary Kuhn; suit for [illegible] in default, and cause referred to C. A. Dolph to take proof. Mitchell, Dolph & Smith, for [illegible].

Benjamin F. Giltner vs. H. C. Victor; action for defamation of character; damage claimed, $6,000; case submitted to jury. Caples, Mitchell, Dolph & Smith, for plaintiff; Stout & Strong, for defendant.

EDITORIAL MUTATIONS.—We learn that a change has come over the spirit of the Columbia Press: Mr. J. C. Dow has retired and will, as we are told, establish himself at LaGrande in the practice of law. A gentleman named Moore is to take the editorial charge of the paper. It is probable, therefore, that we have seen the end of those sickly imitations of the "Brick." Dow, as Dow was well enough, but when he essays the Brick style, he lacks [illegible] of being a success.

FREIGHT FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The following is the freight taken by the Sierra Nevada, for San Francisco: 7,967 qr sks flour, 1,020 sks wheat, 570 sks middlings, 51 sks [illegible], 126 sks potat[illegible] [illegible] apples, 19 bbls pork, 25 bbls beef, 104 hf bbls dried fruit, 25 hf bbls salmon, 6 kits salmon, 10 cases bacon, 7 bales wool, 1 bale deer skins, 8 rolls leather, 8 sks [illegible], 2 casks ale, 14 cases drugs, 30 cases mdse, 24 bales mdse, 19 pkgs mdse, [illegible]

THE [illegible] CROSBY.—The Victoria Colonist of the 20th says: "The schooner A. Crosby, Perkins, arrived [illegible] morning from Portland. The Crosby was 12 days on the way, being detained by the thick fog. For the last three days she was at anchor near Race Rocks, [illegible] to move. She brings a full cargo and three passengers. The Crosby will load with coal at Nanaimo for Portland."

FROM ASTORIA.—Capt. Fisher of the Ranger, which arrived from Astoria yesterday morning, informs us that the California went over the bar on Thursday. The [illegible] towed the Live Yankee down from Oak Point and it was expected the latter would go out of the river [illegible] afternoon. The Almatia would go out at the same time.

THE J. H. COUCH.—This favorite steamer was brought up to the O. S. N. Co's dock Saturday evening, for the purpose of being put upon the Astoria trade in place of the Okanagon. She will leave at the usual hour this morning for Astoria. The Okanagon, we are told, will take the place of the Rescue, on the Monticello trade.

THE VICTOR SLANDER SUIT.—The jury in the case of Giltner vs. Victor, action for damages for defamation of character, after being out all Saturday night, came in yesterday at about 11 o'clock A. M., with a verdict of $1 [illegible] in favor of the plaintiff. The amount sued for was $6,000.

MILITARY.—On Saturday, Bt. Maj. Gen. F. Steele, late in command of this Military Department, departed by the steamship Sierra Nevada. The same afternoon Bt. Maj. Gen. L. H. Rosseau, assigned to the Department Command, arrived by the steamer Cascade from Monticello.

THE STEAMER OSSIPEE.—The Government steamer Ossipee, late from Alaska with Gen. Rousseau and suit, sailed for San Francisco on the 20th. She was detained some days, to make repairs rendered necessary by the [illegible] weather she experienced on the down trip.

PERSONAL.—Judge Wyche of the 1st Judicial District of Washington Territory, arrived by the Hunt Saturday evening, en-route to Olympia, where he is going to attend the annual term of the Supreme Court. We learn that he will leave here, probably to-morrow.

TEMPERANCE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of the Temperance Library Association will be held at seven o'clock this evening at the Good Templars' Hall. There will be an opportunity for all who may desire to become members of the Association.

MRS. STOWE.—From the Colonist of the 20th, we learn that Mrs. C. M. Stowe, the lecturess on Spiritualism, lately here, was advertised to open a course of lectures in that city on the evening of the 21st. The Colonist speaks a good word for her.

WILLAMETTE PRODUCE.—On Saturday the Alert brought down from Oregon City: 153 boxes apples, 2,918 sks flour, 41 sks feed, 100 hf bbls dried apples, 6 hogs, 5 boxes fruit, 7 sks bacon, 12 hf bbls produce, 1 pkge and 1 box produce.

A copperhead paper claims the vote of Maine for its party in the Presidential election. Why don't it claim Massachusetts, Vermont and Iowa? Nothing is so easy as to construct tables of this description.

BARMAN'S new Fall and Winter styles of Clothing have just arrived by the Montana, and will be opened to-day. All who have been waiting for the latest and best styles, can get them by calling at Barman's, corner of Front and Morrison.

SPECIAL SALE OF FURS.—Mr. Kilbourn, auctioneer, will sell to-morrow at Falk & Kraemer's auction rooms a large lot of furs of the most desirable and fashionable styles, consisting of fine Hudson Bay sables, mink capes, coney capes, cuffs, collars, etc., etc. The genuineness and perfect condition of all the articles offered will be fully guaranteed. The lot comprises a great variety of very handsome goods.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO—BOISE CITY, I. T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital, $100,000. B. M. DuRell, President. C. W. Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places in Idaho Territory promptly attended to. Exchange for Coin or Currency on this Bank can be purchased of Ladd & Tilton, Portland, Oregon.

GOOD FOR OREGON.—Another source of revenue to the State has been created. We notice several shipments of Henley's Royal Balsam to California, and as soon as the bottles can be manufactured a large order will be filled from New York. The curative properties of this medicine are appreciated abroad as well as at home. See the certificates of several prominent citizens of the State on fourth page.

Now, before it is too late, use ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, which will cure the disease, and all will be well with you. For sale by the Dealers in Family Medicines generally.

ENFEEBLED AND DELICATE CONSTITUTIONS, of both sexes, use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU. It will give brisk and energetic feelings, and enable you to sleep well.

DR. G. W. COOL
Has Returned to Portland, and can be found at his residence on Third St., bet. Alder and Washington.

Those who desire FIRST-CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call. He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE; the nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire [illegible] surface with fine gold; it makes the plate twice as strong and one-third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate. It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence. One-half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking. His new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had. The improvement is his own invention, for which he has made application to the United States Patent Office for a patent. He has been making this style of work for the last two-and-a-half years, and [illegible] of the work which can be seen at his residence and office on Third street. This work has given satisfaction in every case.

Price for upper teeth, $50; full set, upper and lower, $15 00. oc31dtf

FOR NON-RETENTION or INCONTINENCE of Urine, irritation, inflammation, or ulceration of the bladder or kidneys, diseases of the prostrate glands, stone in the bladder, calculus, gravel or brick dust deposits, and all diseases of the bladder, kidneys and dropsical swellings, USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

OREGONIANS should test the merits of DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of [illegible] at the mines, many persons are exposed to attacks of the digestive organs, and of various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand at the mines. Its daily use will restore the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitters are the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health.—Sold by Druggists and dealers every where.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS!

At this period there are but few of the human race unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer; but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. We therefore wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally, and it stands alone, unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines, and its sale is universal and immense. The demand for it from India and other foreign countries is equal to the demand at home, and it has become known in these far off places by its merits.

MANHOOD AND YOUTHFUL VIGOR are regained by HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

THE PEOPLE have been so much imposed upon by several worthless Sarsaparillas, that we are glad to be able to recommend a preparation which can be depended on as containing the virtues of that invaluable medicine, and is worthy of the public confidence. Dect. HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Bilious [illegible]
Fortifies the System against [illegible] and the evil [illegible] of unwholesome water;
[illegible] the organs of digestion
and the bowels;
Steadies the Nerves [illegible] Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no [illegible] botanical [illegible]; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite [illegible] by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed [illegible] they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the [illegible] influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

The Wrong Side of the Stream

Ah! don't you remember, sweet Amy, the talking,
You caused down at Silverdale Hall?
How men were all wild to attend you in walking,
Or to carry your sunshade or shawl?
You laughed and you flirted, and were so provoking,
For you reigned like a despot supreme!
And issued your edicts part earnest part joking,
From your home on the side of the stream.

Then had you your favorites I can't help confessing,
Though you treated us all as your slaves—
One moment were n[illegible] the next were caressing,
More capricious than the wind-driven waves
'Twas then Charlie Lincoln and I were both vying
To be first in your love and esteem,
Whilst swiftly the rosy hours were flying,
At your court by the side of the stream

Thus it often occurred in that bright sunny weather
That we both were ensnared by your wiles
You gave one a flower another a feather
Whilst you gladdened us both with your smiles
At last came a time of most exquisite rapture—
How short did that afternoon seem!—
As rosy lips pouted I made my first capture,
When I met you alone by the stream

Alone, did I say? Charlie Lincoln had seen us—
That he had I could tell by his look;
What matter! With osiers and hurdles between us,
With a thick tangled hedge and—a brook
'Twas all one to me, for he could not come over,
So he bowed in a manner supreme,
And envied the lot that had cast me in clover,
With himself the wrong side of the stream

How tender and true were those words softly spoken
How lovely the light in your eyes
How earnest those pledges never meant to be broken,
Those whispers that melted to sighs!
No lon[illegible] mere fancy—my fate was decided;
No phantom or fairy-like dream;
I'll [illegible] the good luck that my rival had, [illegible]
Thus to walk the wrong side of the stream.

The Gas Companies of New York.

[From the New York "Sun."]

Before the application of gas to lighting purposes, peaceable and quiet [illegible] of large cities were afraid to stir out of their h[illegible] after nightfall. In Lin[illegible], in the days of Johnson and Gol[illegible], the [illegible] "Mohawk" club took adv[illegible] [illegible] dimly-lighted streets and sallied forth at night to wrench off knockers, insult unprotected [illegible] beat watchmen within an inch of their [illegible] existence. Oil lamps along the [illegible] streets were used in those days, but they only served to light their 'immediate' [illegible] and to show the thickness of the surrounding [illegible]. Many parts of the city are [illegible] daylight of gaslight, but they would be [illegible] those who love [illegible] are evil, [illegible]. Fortunately, we live in an age of "gas," and not when [illegible] and Mohawks flourish.

There are four gas districts in this city, lighted by four different companies. The oldest is the New York Gas Light Company, chartered in 1823, whose district comprises Grand and Canal streets, and that portion of the city lying south of that line and extending to the Battery. The President of the Company is John H. Adams; the Vice President, Cornelius L. Everett, and the [illegible], Thomas [illegible]. [illegible] is nominally $1,000,000, but the cost of the works and mains [illegible] that amount. The works are situated between Twenty-first and Twenty-second streets, and First avenue and East river. When this company first [illegible] lights, the gas was [illegible] from oil, afterwards from [illegible], and now from bituminous coal. 50,000 tons of coking and Cannel coal, brought from England, Nova Scotia and Pennsylvania, was consumed in the manufacture of the 500,000,000 cubic feet of gas, on which the Company paid the usual United States Revenue tax last year. At the works there are six immense gasholders, each 90 feet in diameter, with a total capacity of 1,500,000 cubic feet. Over 100 miles of pipe, varying from 3 to 24 inches in diameter, are used to convey the gas from the works to the many thousand jets where it is [illegible]. The street mains [illegible] 16 to 24 inches in diameter, and are generally laid 4 feet deep at the [illegible] of the street, except [illegible] where [illegible] is only one [illegible], and that is in the middle. In this district there are over 3,200 public or street lamps lighted every night, or for a total of 3,933 [illegible] per year. These and the lamps in the other districts [illegible] the public $50 per year each for the gas alone, the [illegible] and other [illegible] are additional [illegible] for by the [illegible]. This company gives employment to about 320 men in various capacities. It may be interesting to state that one lamplighter is allowed to 100 lamps. The street lamps must be lit at a certain [illegible] evening [illegible] going to a [illegible] up and furnished to the Gas Company by the Street Commissioner.

The fourth district, of the Manhattan Gaslight Company [illegible] by [illegible] and Thirty-fourth streets, and the North and East rivers. The capital of the company is $4,000,000, and the officers are, Charles Roome, President; Floyd Smythe, Vice President, and S. S. Howard, Secretary. The works are situated at the foot of Eighteenth street, North river, and at Fourteenth street, East river, and are under the charge of J [illegible]. There are [illegible] immense gas holders, having an aggregate capacity of 6,000,000 cubic feet. 121,000 tons of coal from the [illegible] Provinces and Pennsylvania [illegible] last year 1,194,000,000 cubic feet of gas. There is laid down 166 miles of pipe of various sizes; there are 29,340 private consumers, and 6,322 street lamps in this district. The number of men employed by the company in its works and offices is nearly 750. [illegible] consumption [illegible] 6,000,000 cubic feet, and the minimum in June, 2,700,000 cubic feet. On Christmas are the largest quantity of gas is made and used. These works are the most extensive in the United States, and [illegible] as much gas as all the Philadelphia works put together.

The district between Thirty-fourth street and Harlem, is lighted by the Metropolitan Gaslight Company, of which Oscar Zollikoffer is President; William J. [illegible], Vice [illegible], and W. G. Hart, Manager, etc. The company has been in operation nearly five years. The works are at Forty second street, North river, where there are 300 [illegible] in action, supplying to the gas-holders 5,000 [illegible] feet per hour. The company has already laid 90 miles of pipe, and the length is increasing [illegible]. 30,000 tons of Pennsylvania, Virginia and English coal, made last year 300,000,000 cubic feet of gas, which was burned by 6,000 private [illegible] and 2,100 street lamps. The company has 300 employees.

The Harlem Gaslight Company['s] district extends north from Seventy ninth street, and in[illegible]. The [illegible] of miles of pipe in this district is 70, and the number of public lamps, 2,690. As the district becomes more populous the operations of the [illegible] will [illegible] more [illegible]sive.

The Street Commissioner's report for the last year is not yet in print. [illegible] the report of 1865, there were at the end of that year 422 miles of gas mains and 14,681 public lamps in the city. The companies give employment to about 1,600 men, and burn yearly about 250,000 tons of coal in the manufacture of 2,000,000,000 cubic feet of gas. The expenditure on the part of the city for gas and contingent expenses for the year 1864 [illegible] to not less than $621,500 02. This [illegible] at [illegible] large, but taken in connection with the immense benefits it confers it is not extravagant.

A LEGEND OF THE GREAT EASTERN.—There is a wild legend in connection with the Great Eastern steamship, the origin of which I do not know, but the shipwrights firmly believe in it. So much has been written about this famous vessel that the slightest allusion to it here will suffice. She is a ship of two [illegible], or skins, as they are called, that is, she is almost like one ship fitting inside of another. Between the inner and outer [illegible] the workmen can crawl for repairs. Dreadfully dark and sepulchral, of course, it is in there, for, from the nature of the space, the workmen must be completely closed in, excepting at the spot at which he enters. Very few smiths or shipwrights would care to work in here alone, for two terrible spectres are supposed to [illegible] the place. Almost all the men who were engaged in the construction of the vessel believe that, somewhere in the darkness and thick air lie two skeletons which can never be found till the vessel is broken up. These are the remains of a smith and his riveter, the latter being a lad. During the construction of the vessel these two worked all through the week, keeping full time, and their work lay in between the skins. The smith was an elderly man of a moody temper, who made no friends, and was not popular with his mates. No one had seen him leaving work, nobody was interested about him. But one pay day both he and his lad failed to appear at the pay table to draw their money. They never were heard of any more by any one who worked on the Great Eastern. Of course their absence was noticed by the [illegible] and other officials, but the missing men, being, as I have said, unpopular with their comrades, there had been very little inquiry about them until it was found that their money was not claimed. It was then soon noticed that the last time they had been seen, they were at work in the "case" of the ship and before long it became a fixed notion that by a fall, or by the effect of some vapor, the two men had been killed, or stunned and closed in, and all the host of men who worked at the great ship believed that somewhere in the vast hulk there lay two skeletons which, for some reason, could never be found, the prosaic idea that the old fellow and his helper had left without warning for a better job, finding of course, no favor

The Bulletin says the next great enterprise of the United States will be the construction of a canal across the Isthmus of Darien

A JOLLIFICATION AT THE CORNERS, FOLLOWED BY A DREAM WHICH HAS SOME REFERENCE TO A POLITICAL EVENT.

Post Offis, Confedrit X Roads,)

Oct 22, 1867

We held, last nite, our formal jollification at the Corners, over the result uv the Ohio and Pennsylvany elecshuns It wuz a glorious occashun and one wich wuz calkerlated to cheer the long depresst hearts uv the down trodden Dimocrisy wich it did The church wuz gorgusly illuminated with candles hung in festoons in the winder Deckin Pogram, in honor uv the occashun, loaned us the yoose uv his two kerosene lamps—the pride uv the Corners—wich wuz arranged in a tablou in front uv the pulpit, over wich wuz hung, in peaceful folds, the two Confedrit flags wich Kernel McPelter's regiment hed bore in onor over myriads uv ded Yankees The survivin herows uv the Lost Cos in this visinity wuz present, attired in their soiled uniforms, and everything about the demonstrashen wuz ez inspirin ez it wuz possible tu make it Short and pertinent addresses wuz made by the offishels uv the church, wich I wuz gratified to observe a pious vane uv thankfulness ran thro em Deckin Pogram shone with unwonted brilliancy and onparalleled devoutnis He blessed the Lord for the mercy wich hed bin vouchsafed us The people uv the North hed vindicated the Skripters, and hed bin weaned from ther infidelity. Now he felt he cood wallop a nigger wunst more in safety and put his foot on to the necks uv the descendants uv Ham, wich wuz ordained from the flood. He felt thankful for wat hed bin done for us by Ohio and Pennsylvany, an he hoped fur ez much from Noo York. Shood Noo York complete the work so gloriously commenst by Maine and Californy, and so happily carred forred by Ohio and Pennsylvany, then he shood say, "Now let thy servant depart in peace" If he shood survive the joy uv the occashen, he wood towunst recapcher his niggers—sich uv them ez wuz still in the land uv the livin—and redoose em to ther normal condishen He wood hold to em by force, trustin in the result uv the next Presidenshal eleckshun to ratify wat he hed done He shood to wunst buy up wat he cood uv Confedrit skrip, for, bless the Lord, he felt now that the Lost Cos wasn't ez much lost ez he thot it wuz

Other speeches wuz made, and the meetin, in a state uv high hilarity, adjourned to Bascom's, wher we made a nite of it I survived probably the longest uv any uv the square drinkers Ther wuz those who held out by resortin to sich onmanly subterfuges ez throwin their likker over their sholders and takin lite drinks, but sich ain't for me. It looks ez it is, like a throwin away uv the good gifts uv nacher, a sacrificin the blessins uv life to a foolish pride, sumthin I never will do.

One by one, I saw em droop and roll gently off the benches. Issaker Gavitt first, McPelter next, Bascom next, and finally Deckin Pogram, like a giant oak in a hurricane, tottered, rallied, tottered agin, and finally fell; and I, feelin that my time too, had come, went under likewise. I slept, and sleepin, dreamed.

Methawt I wuz in a vast bildin constructid in the Oriental stile uv arkeetectoor, to wit: a roof supported by pillers These pillers wuz labelled with the names of battles fought doorin the revolution and the last war wich Great Britten, the strongest and newest bein ticketed with the battle fought doorin the late onplesantniss

"The Temple uv Liberty?" answered he.

"Wilt show it me?" askt I.

"With pleasure, sir," sed he "The present occupant uv the buildin and he now has control uv it, is in an inner chamber Woodst see him?"

"I woodst," remarked I, and he showed me in

"Exhaustion," sed he. "Sich a fite ez he hez had to retain possession of this place! Four long years hav opposin powers attempted by open hostilities to dispossess him, doorin wich he wuz assailed at every pint, and for three years hez politikle fite bin made onto him, doorin wich he hez bin betrayed by them he spozed wuz his chosen and trusted friends. Last year he hed a terrible conflict with em and wuz victorious, but the strain wuz too heavy onto him, and he's bin asleep ever sence, [illegible]. Besides some uv his attendin physicians, in whom he hed confidence, proved to be quacks, and they dr[illegible] him with [illegible]atives, wich, however good they mite be, wuzn't precisely the remedy for the time, and they incr[illegible] the stupor [illegible] wich he wuz [illegible]. Besides, he wuz [illegible] with sore head, and in addition to all this [illegible] wuz he. [illegible] and vampires, and bloodsuckers uv all kinds, wich farther [illegible] him. Listen how hard he breathes!"

And he wuz a [illegible] this hard.

At this [illegible] minit methawt the guide disappeared, and there wuz a agitashen uv the curtins uv the chamber. Slowly they lifted, and to my surprise I saw fuzhers wich I recognized. Val landygum passed in, and [illegible] that the Giant wuz still asleep, came in on tiptoe, beckonin others to follow. They come. There wuz Thurman uv Ohio, Voorhees of Injiany, Florence, Sharswood and Jerry Black, uv Pennsylvany, Seward, Fernandy Wood and Morrissey, uv Noo York, and Johnson, Pierce, Bookanan, and the whole glorious company uv marters. Cautiously they crept in and timidly ranged themselves about the sleepin Giant and commenced among themselves.

It wuz a pekoolyer seen. On the carpet on the floor wuz stretched the form uv a giant, byer in stature, broader across the shoulders, deeper in the chest, and possessin more indecashens uv strength and endoorance than any giant I hed ever seen. His face wuz rather young lookin and noble, though onto it there wuz an expression uv wearinis and sadnis. He wuz fast asleep, and sleepin ez a man does after a terrible expenditoor uv physikle and mentle strength.

"Who is this?" askt I uv my guide.

"Republikinism!" sed he.

"Ha! Wat is them wich he holds so lovin in his arms?" I askt.

"Them is the treasures uv the Temple, uv wich the okkupant thereof is ex offisho guardian He hes only a part uv em in his arms—of you notis, there are ten uv em under his heels."

I looked carefully, and notist that they wuz all labelled with the names uv States—those in his arms wuz uv the North, and the ten under his arms wuz them wich hed unfortunitly failed in their attempt to git out uv the Temple. From the heft uv his heel onto em, it appeared ez tho they were under a triflin restraint. Kentucky, Delaware and Maryland he hed tightly gripped between his thumb and finger.

"Why sleeps he?" asked I.

"That wuz too heavy a load for him to carry at his age," chickled Ben. Wood, pintin to an immense burden strapped to his shoulders, on which was written "Equality before the law"

"Yes," sed Johnson, "but he wood hev got through with it, but I tripped him!"

"It wuz I who put the stone down over wich he mostly stumbled," sed Seward in a whisper.

"To bisnis!" sed Vallandygum "Let us git wat we kin afore he awakens," and he and Thurman slily fingered away Ohio, doin it without disturbin him much. He did groan slightly and moved uneasily. Sharswood and Jerry Black very adroitly slipped Pennsylvania out from under his arm, and agin he started up restlessly, but sunk back into his slumber agin.

Emboldened by this, Fernando Wood and Seymour attempted to steal away Noo York, wich wuz the piller onto wich his hed hed restid, and while they wuz manooverin it he made a terrible noise, ez of he wuz in agony.

"It's the death rattle in his throat," replied the ten Staits under his heels, strivin to release themselves

"It's the death rattle in his throat," shrieked they all, throwin off all stealth and each grabbin a Stait

In an instant the scene changed. They had overdid it. The giant awoke, and springin to his feet, glared fiercely on to em

"The death rattle, is it?" sed he, in a voice uv thunder "Ha! ha! you mistake the snorin uv a hard sleepin giant for the death rattle! What hev I done? Sleepin so long and knowin all the time that assassins lurked around me!" Shakin the barnacles off, he laid about him lively. He pitched Fernandy and Seymour out head over heels—one sweep uv his right arm disposed uv Pierce, Bookanan and that pack, and then missin Ohio and Pennsylvania, he observed Vallandygum and Sharswood makin off with them Two leaps sufficed, and he wrenched the States from their grasp, but not until Vallandygum had bit a thundrin slice out uv Ohio, and Sharswood one nearly ez large out uv Pencilvany

At this pint I awoke The mornin sun wuz a sendin her brilliant beams thro the winders uv Bascom's Around me lay the prostrate forms uv Deckin Pogram, Bascom, Captain McPelter, Issaker Gavitt, and the others who hed bin with me the night afore They wuz a sleepin and a snorin as peacefly ez men ever did The doors hed bin left open, and the villagers—the early birds wh are allus around ketchin the worm—hed collected at the door They did not vencher in, not knowin how sound asleep we wuz, until—ez one uv em told me afterward—he hed seen a hog belongin to Bascom walk in the open door and root about among us, gruntin approvingly, ez tho it reminded him of his childhood's days, wich indeed it did, ez he hed allus bin fed at a distillery—and then satisfied that we wuz truly asleep they walked in and helped themselves to the refreshments at the bar. Turnin them out quietly with a stingin rebook for their dishonesty in takin advantage uv one helpless ez Bascom wuz, I emptied the contents uv his drawer, and pekoorin it in my bust lay down ez tho I wuz asleep, till they shood awake In an hour he awoke and discovered that he hed bin gone through

"Who cood hev done it?" sed he.

"My dear friend," sed I, "you wuz imprudent enuff to leave your door open—see ther!" and I pinted to the villagers a reelin thro the street "They're virtuous, but you put their integrity to a test wich it couldn't stand! Ther wuz too much pressure! the square inch on ther conshunces and they collapst Let it be a warnin to you I don't know that I cood hev resisted it, hed I awakened first" And I awakened the Deckin and helped him home, stayin with him uv course to breakfast

THE ROYAL BALSAM!

HAS NOW BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR A length of time, and wherever used is highly recommended, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction, but, on the contrary, all are delighted with it and speak in the highest terms of its magical effects The astonishing efficacy of the ROYAL BALSAM, in curing the diseases for which it is recommended entitles it to the highest rank among the list of medicines, and no family can be without it after once trying it

Read the following testimonials from some of the most prominent citizens of Oregon

MIRACULOUS CURE.

DR HENLEY—Dear Sir I feel it but a duty to inform you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my wife She had been afflicted with a severe cough for several weeks, which had assumed a dangerous feature, for which many physicians have been trying without any material benefit and all the remedies failed to give, her any relief. Without relief was got I feared for the worst, in her present condition. The cough appeared to be worse at night, she could get no rest—when Mr Randall, of this place advised me to try your Royal Balsam, all other remedies having failed, I concluded to try it, and I purchased two bottles Strange to say by the time I gave her three spoonsfuls of the Balsam she got relief and slept, a thing she had not done for three nights previous By the time she had taken one bottle the cough was checked Its effect was truly miraculous as the cure was effectual hence, I have no hesitation in recommending the Royal Balsam to all who are afflicted, and it appears astonishing to me that medicine of such great merit and I might say magical effect, is not more in use. My candid opinion is, if persons use it once, they never be without it in the house.

Vancouver, March 1 1867 H COCHRAN

From Wm. Doty.

North Yamhill, July 15, 1867

DEAR DR. HENLEY—It is with sincere gratitude I undertake to write to you, what your Royal Balsam has done for me. For the last 12 years I have been afflicted with a severe cough and what also some of the physicians called the Bronchitis, and have spent a fortune to get cured trying all the physicians and remedies I could get to no purpose, Through the influence of my neighbors (for you have a great name with them here,) I got a bottle of your Royal Balsam and finding that it relieved me considerable I sent for a half dozen more And now after one month using it I am perfectly cured I gained ten pounds within a month and feel quite a different man I send you this for publication for the benefit of humanity that through my experience others in affliction may be relieved as I have been Yours truly,

WILLIAM DOTY

From Sophia M. Holman.

DEAR DR HENLEY—It is my duty to inform you and the public, what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my children Two of them had a very bad cough and cold, I got a bottle of the Royal Balsam, and gave them some at bedtime and some in the morning and that was all that was needed to cure them I was astonished at not hearing them cough again but so it was I find if you give it in larger doses it will make the children throw up in an instant and I think every mother ought to have a bottle of your Royal Balsam in the house, in case a child should get the croup for which it is a sure remedy, as it acts like magic on children. What I have seen and heard from my neighbors about the Royal Balsam I would sooner depend on it than on any prescription from any physician I have lost two children within the last year of the same disease, had I had at the time some of the Royal Balsam I am confident my dear ones would be alive now I shall always recommend it to all my friends, for I consider it a blessing and Godsend to mankind

Yours truly, SOPHIA M HOLMAN

From Drs. Bell & Parker.

We have sold a great deal of Medicine since we have been in business, and now have fifteen different kinds of Expectorants for sale. But Dr Henley's Royal Balsam takes the palm from all In fact, we sell six bottles of Royal Balsam to one of any other kind and really it seems of no use to keep any other During our experience we have never seen any medicine that gives the satisfaction the Royal Balsam does, as is proven by the results daily coming in from the country of old Chronic cases when nothing else would remove the dreadful cough they had I find it is good for Bronchitis and Asthma We acknowledge it a pleasure to sell medicine that gives such universal satisfaction

BELL & PARKER
Druggists, Oregon City

From W. F. Barber.

DR HENLEY—Dear Sir I had the Asthma for the last four years, so bad that it came near choking me I tried all the patent medicines recommended for the cure of Asthma without doing me the least good, till I was told to try some of your Royal Balsam which on several afflicted with the same disease has performed wonders I am using it now for a week and strange to say I have not experienced anything since, and I really believe that I am perfectly cured anyhow I shall never be without a bottle of the Royal Balsam in the house in case of a similar attack, and I have no hesitation in recommending it to all afflicted with the same disease.

I am Yours truly
W F BARBER

From J. H. Morril.

DEAR DR. HENLEY—I think it but justice to you that these few lines should be made known to the public, for there is so much humbug going on in patent medicines and quack nostrums now a days that I had lost all faith in everything in the shape of medicine I was afflicted with what is called Bronchitis for the last thirty years, I coughed and wheezed for an hour at a time I tried some of the best physicians in the Atlantic States and on this coast all to no purpose I could get no relief and I really thought there was no relief for me in the world I was induced to try a bottle of your Royal Balsam and it had a most remarkable effect on me, and before I had used up four bottles, the cough left me and I can talk as loud as anybody my wife and neighbors don't know what to make of it My opinion is that if they knew the value of the Royal Balsam there is not a family in the country that would be without it, I think there is not a better medicine in existence for Bronchitis or cough than the Royal Balsam and I conscientiously recommend to all so afflicted to give it a fair trial

I remain yours, truly,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are dragging out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from vices absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured forms and their broken [illegible] conditions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid state these thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies, so that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

[illegible] the consequence of [illegible] This [illegible] vice, or [illegible] sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, [illegible] and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with, a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge
